This update to Detained or Deported: What About My Children? addresses changes in relevant federal and state policy since 2014. All other information in Detained or Deported remains the same.

Read this carefully before you read Detained or Deported. This update contains the most current information about ICE apprehension, detention, and deportation practices that may affect the decisions you make about your children. It also provides revised information on how to communicate with ICE at the local and national level about the welfare of your children and related concerns.
When you are detained or deported without your children, you do not automatically lose custody of your children. You still have rights. This guide is designed to help you understand and assert those rights and maintain care and custody of your children.

If you are in detention and are not able to exercise your parental rights, the most important thing you can do is call the free Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) Detention Reporting and Information Line, often called the DRIL line, at 888-351-4024 (code 9116# on the phone in your housing unit). (See Box below.)

What is the ICE Detention Reporting and Information Line?

The ICE Detention Reporting and Information Line (DRIL line) is a free telephone hotline that can help you resolve concerns related to your detention. You can call the DRIL line for help:

1. if you have been separated from your children and do not know where they are;
2. if you are having trouble doing the things you are required to do to reunify with your children because you are in detention; or
3. if you have other questions or concerns about your detention and your ability to care for and reunify with your children.

The phone number for the DRIL line is: 888-351-4024. The code for contacting the DRIL line from phones in detention center housing units is 9116#.

The DRIL line is open from 8 am to 8 pm Eastern Time, Monday through Friday. Spanish-speaking operators and assistance with other languages are available.

Note: In Detained and Deported: What about my children?, you will see reference to something called the ICE Community and Detainee Helpline. This hotline was renamed the ICE Detention Reporting and Information Line (DRIL line). The phone number and purpose of both hotlines are the same.
In 2014, the Women’s Refugee Commission released Detained or Deported: What about my children? This toolkit was designed to help parents who are in US Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention or who have been deported make childcare decisions of their choosing and, when necessary, participate in state child welfare proceedings that could lead to termination of their parental rights.

This update to Detained or Deported addresses changes in relevant federal and state policy since 2014. All other information in Detained or Deported remains the same.

Read this carefully before you read Detained or Deported. This update contains the most current information about ICE apprehension, detention, and deportation practices that may affect the decisions you make about your children. It also provides revised information on how to communicate with ICE at the local and national level about the welfare of your children and related concerns.

This update is accompanied by revised appendices. These appendices provide current contact and other important information about child abuse hotlines, state-specific child welfare handbooks, child welfare agencies in Mexico and Central America, and other resources that can help you if you are detained or deported and your children are in the US child welfare system. The updated appendices are labeled Updated March 2019 in the lower corner.

What happens if I’m separated from my children at the border?

Detained or Deported: What about my children? was designed to help parents who are involved with both the federal immigration system and a state child welfare system navigate child welfare proceedings and protect their parental rights. It also offers advice on making care plans for your children if you are living in the US and fear you could be detained or deported.

If you were separated from your children at the border, it is important to talk to a US immigration attorney about your legal rights and options. If you do not know where your children are, try to locate them. Once you have done that, stay in regular contact with your children and with the person or agency who is caring for them.

If you were separated from a US citizen or lawful permanent resident child at the border, your child may be in the care of a state child welfare agency. Follow the instructions beginning on page 29 of Detained or Deported to locate your child and to participate in state child welfare proceedings. You can also tell your deportation officer that you were separated from your child and call the DRIL line at 888-351-4024 (phone code 9116# on the phone in your housing unit) (see Box on page 1). They may be able to help you locate and communicate with your child.

If you were separated from a child at the border and the child is not a US citizen or lawful permanent resident, he or she may be in the care of the federal Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR). Call the DRIL line and tell the operator that you were separated from your child at the border. Also contact the free ORR hotline at 800-203-7001 and tell the operator that you are trying to find out if your child is in ORR custody. Ask to be reunited with your child and released from detention. You may have to keep asking.
ICE Policies on the Detention and Removal of Parents and Legal Guardians

ICE policy when the agency takes custody of a parent or legal guardian has changed since Detained or Deported was written. But policies related to the detention and deportation of parents and legal guardians still exist. You or your attorney, relatives, or friends can ask ICE to follow these policies if you have been separated from your children.

Note that Detained or Deported uses the terms “parental rights” and “parental interests” to talk about your right to make decisions about the care and custody of your children. ICE personnel may not use or recognize the terms parental rights or parental interests. If your deportation officer does not recognize these terms, ask him or her to follow ICE policies on the detention and removal of parents and legal guardians.

What is the Status of the ICE Parental Interests Directive?

Detained or Deported often refers to something called the ICE Parental Interests Directive. In 2013, ICE issued a directive called “Facilitating Parental Interests in the Course of Civil Immigration Enforcement Activities” (often called the “parental interests directive” for short). This is the directive that is referenced throughout Detained or Deported.

In August 2017, this directive was replaced by a new ICE directive on the Detention and Removal of Alien Parents or Legal Guardians. Wherever you see the parental interests directive mentioned in Detained or Deported refer to the 2017 directive, not the 2013 version. The 2017 directive is what ICE personnel will use as a guideline if you ask for help to ensure that detention and deportation do not disrupt your parental rights.

The main differences between the 2013 directive and the 2017 directive are that the 2017 directive does not remind ICE that it has the discretion not to detain parents and legal guardians and that it has the authority to consider requests for humanitarian parole so a parent can return to the US temporarily to participate in a termination of parental rights hearing. Despite these changes, you can still ask for discretion and parole. For more information on the 2017 directive, see the Women’s Refugee Commission’s Frequently Asked Questions on the ICE Directive on Detention and Removal of Alien Parents or Legal Guardians.
Where Do I Find More Information about ICE’s Parental Interests Policies?

The 2017 ICE directive on the Detention and Removal of Alien Parents or Legal Guardians is not the only ICE policy related to the detention and deportation of parents and legal guardians. ICE’s detention standards describe agency policy related to phone calls, visitation with children, and participation in family court proceedings.

The 2017 directive and these other ICE policies are summarized in a March 2018 ICE Fact Sheet on Policies and Procedures Involving Detained Parents and Legal Guardians. If you would like a copy of the Fact Sheet, ask your deportation officer.

You can find additional information about ICE’s parental interests policies in Detained or Deported and in the Women's Refugee Commission's Frequently Asked Questions on the ICE Directive on the Detention and Removal of Alien Parents or Legal Guardians.

Telling ICE You Have Children

Detained or Deported recommends that you tell ICE if you have minor children in the US. It can be helpful to tell ICE about your children if you need to make childcare arrangements or are asking to be released so you can care for them. If ICE knows you have children, they may be willing to help you participate in a child welfare case plan or family court hearings and/or facilitate your efforts to make arrangements for where your children will live and who will care for them if you are deported.

Tell ICE about your children if they are US citizens or lawful permanent residents. If your child or the person caring for them is undocumented, telling ICE may place them at risk of detention and deportation.

I’ve Been Separated from My Children. How Do I Find Them?

Pages 29-31 of Detained or Deported explain what to do if you do not know where your children are, or if you think they might be in the care of a state child welfare agency. Follow the instructions in Detained or Deported if you were separated from your children in the interior of the US or if you were separated from a US citizen or lawful permanent resident child at the border.

If you were separated from your child at the border and the child is not a US citizen or lawful permanent resident, he or she may be in the care of the federal Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR). If you were separated from your child at the border, call the DRIL line at 888-351-4024 (phone code 9116# on the phone in your housing unit). Tell the operator that you were separated from your child at the border. Also contact the free ORR hotline at 800-203-7001 and tell them that you are trying to find out if your child is in ORR custody. Ask to be reunited with your child and released from detention. You may have to keep asking.

Note that undocumented children separated from you in the interior of the US may also be in ORR custody.

Making Care Arrangements for Your Children: New Options in New York and Maryland

Pages 17-26 of Detained or Deported explain various options you can use to appoint someone to care for your children if you are detained or after you have been deported. Power of attorney and other forms to help you make care arrangements for your children can be found in detention center law libraries. Ask a librarian or your deportation officer for help accessing the proper forms for your state.

In addition to the options presented in Detained or Deported, New York State and Maryland recently passed laws that allow parents who fear being separated from their children by an immigration action to designate a Standby Guardian. A Standby Guardian can assume care of a child if the child’s parent is detained or deported. Like the court-approved custody arrangements described in Detained or Deported, Standby Guardianship gives your chosen caregiver more authority than a Power of Attorney does to make care decisions for your children.

Standby Guardianship only takes effect if you are apprehended by ICE or another triggering event occurs, so you do not have to preemptively and unnecessarily ask a court to give someone else legal authority over your children.

Standby Guardianship is limited in time, lasting up to 180 days after the triggering event in Maryland and up to 60 days in New York. It needs to be formalized in court to remain in effect for a longer period of time. But it is an additional childcare option to consider if you live in one of those states. Talk to an attorney for more information about Standby Guardianship for immigration purposes if you live in New York or Maryland. Standby Guardianship specifically for immigration purposes is currently only available in these two states.

Applying for Public Benefits for Children

You or another person who is caring for your children may need to apply for public benefits that your children are entitled to, such as Medicaid, cash assistance, or food assistance. Receipt of public benefits can have immigration consequences, and changes to public charge laws are possible at any time. Talk to an immigration attorney before applying for public benefits for you or your children, even if they are US citizens.

Visitation with Children

If your children are in the care of a state child welfare system, the child welfare agency may require you to visit with them regularly. This requirement may be part of your reunification case plan. If visitation is required and you do not visit with your children, it may work against you when the state is deciding whether you can reunify with your children.

ICE policy is generally to allow children to visit their parents in detention. This is explained in the detention standards, the August 2017 ICE directive on Detention and Removal of Alien Parents or Legal Guardians, and explained further in the March 2018 ICE Fact Sheet on Policies and Procedures Involving Detained Parents and Legal Guardians. If you are held in a detention center that does not allow children to visit, you can ask ICE to arrange for a visit with your children. You can also ask ICE to transfer you to a different detention center that allows children to visit regularly. Try to find out where ICE would move you before asking for a transfer. You could be moved to a detention center that is further away from your children or your lawyer(s). While you are waiting to be transferred, ICE policy is to allow regular visitation with your children.
Undocumented children and/or undocumented caregivers who try to enter a detention center are at risk of being detained and deported.

For more information about visitation, reunification case plans, and other child welfare requirements see Chapter 6 of Detained or Deported.

Phone Calls with Children

ICE policy allows you to make direct or free phone calls from a detention center to your immediate family members, including your children, if there is a personal or family emergency or other compelling need. If your child welfare reunification case plan requires phone calls with your children and you cannot afford phone cards or are not able to make calls through normal procedures, tell ICE and ask them to let you make phone calls as described in the March 2018 ICE Fact Sheet on Policies and Procedures Involving Detained Parents and Legal Guardians.

Participation in Family Court Proceedings

If your children are in the care of a state child welfare agency, you will need to participate in family court hearings in order to reunify with them. If you do not participate, the family court judge may think that you do not want to reunify with your children and will terminate your parental rights. Unless your parental rights have been terminated, you have the right to participate in family court hearings from detention and after you have been deported.

A detailed explanation of how to ask ICE to facilitate your participation in family court is found in the 2011 National Detention Standards, although the 2011 standards do not apply in every detention center. Up-to-date policy on family court appearances that applies in all detention centers is included in the 2017 ICE directive on Detention and Removal of Alien Parents or Legal Guardians and explained in the March 2018 ICE Fact Sheet on Policies and Procedures Involving Detained Parents and Legal Guardians. ICE can work with a family court to help you with transportation, so if you need to participate in a family court proceeding, call the DRIL hotline as well as telling your deportation officer.

For more information about how to participate in family court proceedings from detention, see Chapter 4 of Detained or Deported. Much of the guidance on pages 43-44 of Detained or Deported also applies if you need to participate in family court proceedings from outside the US.

If you are trying to participate in family court proceedings from detention and are unable to do so, call the DRIL line and ask for help. You can contact the DRIL line at 888-351-4024 or by entering code 9116# on the phone in your housing unit.

Making Long-Term Care Arrangements for Your Children

Chapter 8 of Detained or Deported talks about what will happen to your children if you are deported.

If you want your children to stay in the US, it is a good idea to give someone legal permission to care for and make decisions about them. Even if they will be left in the care of their other parent, you may need to make it clear that their other parent can make decisions without your presence or input. It is best to ask a US family lawyer about your options and get their help to complete the right paperwork. If you cannot get legal help to do this while you are in detention, you can still give someone your childcare power of attorney before you leave the US and then discuss more permanent options with a US family lawyer once you are in your country of origin.

State Bar Associations may be able to help you find a free or low-cost family lawyer in the area where your children are living. For a list of state bar associations, see: https://www.americanbar.org/groups/legal_services/flh-home/flh-bar-directories-and-lawyer-finders/. If you do not have internet access, ask your deportation officer, your immigration attorney, a relative, or a friend to help you find the phone number for the appropriate state bar association or a list of family lawyers in the right city or county. You can also try contacting the American Bar Association Detainee Hotline through the phones in your housing unit.

Power of attorney forms for many states and counties can be found in detention center law libraries. If you cannot find them, ask a librarian or your deportation officer for help.

If you cannot find the right power of attorney form for the state where your children live, you can still express your wishes for the care of your children using a basic letter. A general form designating care of a minor is available in Appendix O of Detained or Deported and at the back of this guide. A version of the form that you can fill in online is available on the computers in detention center law libraries. Ask a librarian or your deportation officer to help you find it.

It is best to have forms assigning care of your children notarized or signed by two witnesses. If you need access to a notary public, ask your deportation officer for help or call the DRIL line.

If you want your children to join you in your country of origin, ask ICE to help you obtain passports and make travel arrangements for them consistent with the policy that is explained in the August 2017 ICE directive on Detention and Removal of Alien Parents or Legal Guardians and the March 2018 ICE Fact Sheet on Policies and Procedures Involving Detained Parents and Legal Guardians. You can also ask ICE if they would provide you, your attorney, consulate, and/or your children’s case worker with advance notice of when you will be deported so that your children’s travel arrangements can be coordinated with yours.

If you are trying to make childcare or travel arrangements for your children from detention and are unable to do so, call the DRIL line and ask for help. You can contact the DRIL line at 888-351-4024 or by entering code 9116# on the phone in your housing unit.

If your children are not US citizens or lawful permanent residents, talk to an immigration attorney before making any travel plans. There may be legal consequences if a child leaves the US while there is an open immigration case. Your child may also be eligible for immigration relief in the US even if you are not.
CHAPTER 1: Protecting Your Rights as a Parent When You Are Detained or Deported

Contacting ICE

Since the publication of Detained or Deported, some of ICE’s contact information and the process for contacting the agency have changed. When contacting ICE, be sure to use the updated contact information below, not the information in *Detained or Deported.

If you need to do things like arrange visitation, set up phone calls, appear in family court, make travel arrangements for your children, or get a Power of Attorney notarized, ask your deportation officer for help.

In addition to talking with your deportation officer, you can contact the DRIL line at 888-351-4024 (code 9116# on the phone in your housing unit) and/or email the ICE parental interests mailbox at parental.interests@ice.dhs.gov.

You can also contact the ICE Field Office that has jurisdiction over the detention center where you are detained. Contact information for ICE Field Offices is available at: https://www.ice.gov/contact/ero. It is advisable to speak with your deportation officer and contact the DRIL line about any concerns related to the well-being of your children, in addition to contacting the Field Office.

Lastly, if you have been separated from other adults in your family, you or your attorney, relatives, or friends can use the ICE Online Detainee Locator System (ODLS) to see if they are in ICE custody: https://locator.ice.gov/odls/#/index or call the DRIL hotline.

Updated, additional information about how to contact ICE Field Offices and Headquarters is available in Appendix A at the back of this guide (page 9).

NOTE: This information replaces the information included in the 2014 edition of Detained or Deported.

ICE Field Office and Headquarters Contact Information

If you have been unable to resolve an issue by working with your deportation officer or detention center staff, or have been separated from your child and do not know where they are, contact the ICE Detention Reporting and Information Line (sometimes called the DRIL line). The DRIL Line is a free phone line at 888-351-4024 (code 9116# on the phone in your housing unit). Trained operators are available from 8:00 am to 8:00 pm, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday, for individuals in the community and for those currently in ICE detention. DRIL Line information posters (English and Spanish) are posted in detention facility housing pods. Language assistance is also available.

You may call to:

- obtain basic immigration case information;
- report an incident of sexual or physical assault or abuse;
- report serious or unresolved problems at your facility;
- report that you are a victim of human trafficking; or
- let ICE know that your immigration detention separated you from your minor child who is dependent on you.

ICE is committed to a transparent process and to resolving your concerns as promptly as possible. For this reason, concerns or questions regarding ICE practices, policies and/or programs should first be directed to your deportation officer. If the issue is not resolved or you are not satisfied with the resolution, you or your attorney, a relative, or friend should contact ICE Headquarters through the DRIL line. You can also bring a problem or concern to the attention of the ICE Field Office that has jurisdiction over the facility where you are held, but you should be sure to notify your deportation officer and ICE Headquarters too.

Updated March 2019
The names, responsibilities and contact information for the ICE Field Office and Headquarters departments may change from time to time. For the latest information on how to contact ICE Field Offices and Headquarters staff, have your lawyer, a relative or friend go to https://www.ice.gov/contact/ero. The drop-down menus provide contact information for each Field Office, and instructions for raising problems and concerns with Headquarters. You can also email questions or concerns related to the well-being of your children to ICE headquarters at: parental.interests@ice.dhs.gov

For information on ICE’s Parental Interests Directive, go to https://www.ice.gov/parental-interest or search for the directive at https://www.ice.gov/ero.

It is a good idea to keep a written record of all the things you do to resolve an issue by working with ICE employees at your detention center and detention center staff. Be sure your written record includes dates, a description of your request and the response you received. That way, you can show the Field Office and ICE Headquarters that you tried to solve the problem and have not been successful.

When contacting the Detention Reporting and Information Line (DRIL line), provide the operator with a detailed description of all your efforts to resolve your concern.

If you are detained in an immigration detention center, you have a right to report complaints and criminal activity. You can also contact many of these offices from the phones in your housing unit. Look at the directory for information. You can also have your lawyer, a relative or friend make the report for you. The following offices are responsible for investigating and responding to complaints and allegations of misconduct:

The image size measured from the bottom of your chin to the top of your head (including hair) should not be less than 1 inch, and not more than 1 3/8 inches. FEES

FEES ARE LISTED ON OUR WEBSITE AT TRAVEL.STATE.GOV. BY LAW, THE PASSPORT FEES ARE NON-REFUNDABLE.

- The passport application fee, security surcharge, and expedite fee may be paid in any of the following forms: Checks (personal, certified, or traveler's) with the applicant's full name and date of birth printed on the front; major credit card (Visa, Master Card, American Express, and Discover); bank draft or cashier's check; money order (U.S. Postal, international, currency exchange), or if abroad, the foreign currency equivalent, or a check drawn on a U.S. bank. All fees should be payable to the "U.S. Department of State" or if abroad, the appropriate U.S. Embassy or U.S. Consulate. When applying at a designated acceptance facility, the execution fee will be paid separately and should be made payable to the acceptance facility. NOTE: Some designated acceptance facilities do not accept credit cards as a form of payment.
- For faster processing, you may request expedited service. Please include the expedite fee in your payment. Our website contains updated information regarding fees and processing times for expedited service. Expedited service is only available for passports mailed in the United States and Canada.
- OVERNIGHT DELIVERY SERVICE is only available for passport book mailings in the United States. Please include the appropriate fee with your payment.
- An additional fee will be charged when, upon your request, the U.S. Department of State verifies issuance of a previous U.S. passport or Consular Report of Birth Abroad because you are unable to submit evidence of U.S. citizenship.
- For applicants with U.S. government or military authorization for no-fee passports, no fees are charged except the execution fee when applying at a designated acceptance facility.
NOTE REGARDING MAILING OF YOUR PASSPORT(S)

Passport Services will not mail a U.S. passport to a private address outside the United States or Canada. If you do not live at the address listed in the "mailing address", then you must put the name of the person and mark it as "In Care Of" in item #8. If your mailing address changes prior to receipt of your new passport, please contact the National Passport Information Center.

If you choose to provide your email address in Item #6 on this application, Passport Services may use that information to contact you in the event there is a problem with your application or if you need to provide information to us.

You may receive your newly issued passport book and/or card and your returned citizenship evidence in two separate mailings. If you are applying for both a U.S. passport book and passport card, you may receive three separate mailings, one with your returned citizenship evidence, one with your newly issued passport book, and one with your newly issued passport card.

FEDERAL TAX LAW

Section 6039E of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 6039E) and 22 U.S.C 2714a(f) require you to provide your Social Security number (SSN), if you have one, when you apply for or renew a U.S. passport. If you have never been issued a SSN, you must enter zeros in box #5 of this form. If you are residing abroad, you must also provide the name of the foreign country in which you are residing. The U.S. Department of State must provide your SSN and foreign residence information to the U.S. Department of the Treasury. If you fail to provide the information, your application may be denied and you are subject to a $500 penalty enforced by the IRS. All questions on this matter should be referred to the nearest IRS office.

FEE REMITTANCE

Passport service fees are established by law and regulation (see 22 U.S.C. 214, 22 C.F.R. 22.1, and 22 C.F.R. 51.50-56), and are collected at the time you apply for the passport service. If the Department fails to receive full payment of the applicable fees because, for example, your check is returned for any reason or you dispute a passport fee charge to your credit card, the U.S. Department of State will take action to collect the delinquent fees from you under 22 C.F.R. Part 34, and the Federal Claims Collection Standards (see 31 C.F.R. Parts 900-904). In accordance with the Debt Collection Improvement Act (Pub.L. 104-134), if the fees remain unpaid after 180 days and no repayment arrangements have been made, the Department will refer the debt to the U.S. Department of Treasury for collection. Debt collection procedures used by U.S. Department of Treasury may include referral of the debt to private collection agencies, reporting of the debt to credit bureaus, garnishment of private wages and administrative offset of the debt by reducing, or withholding eligible federal payments (e.g., tax refunds, social security payments, federal retirement, etc.) by the amount of your debt, including any interest penalties or other costs incurred. In addition, non-payment of passport fees may result in the invalidation of your passport. An invalidated passport cannot be used for travel.

USE OF SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

Your Social Security number will be provided to U.S. Department of Treasury, used in connection with debt collection and checked against lists of persons ineligible or potentially ineligible to receive a U.S. passport, among other authorized uses.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS FOR OFFICIAL, DIPLOMATIC, OR NO-FEE PASSPORTS

You may use this application if you meet all of the provisions listed on Instruction Page 2; however, you must CONSULT YOUR SPONSORING AGENCY FOR INSTRUCTIONS ON PROPER ROUTING PROCEDURES BEFORE FORWARDING THIS APPLICATION. Your completed passport will be released to your sponsoring agency for forwarding to you.

PROTECT YOURSELF AGAINST IDENTITY THEFT!

REPORT YOUR LOST OR STOLEN PASSPORT BOOK OR PASSPORT CARD!

For more information regarding reporting a lost or stolen U.S. passport book or passport card (Form DS-64), or to determine your eligibility for a passport renewal (Form DS-82), call NPIC at 1-877-487-2778 or visit travel.state.gov.

NOTICE TO U.S. PASSPORT CARD APPLICANTS

The maximum number of letters provided for your given name (first and middle) on the U.S. passport card is 24 characters. The 24 characters may be shortened due to printing restrictions. If both your given names are more than 24 characters, you must shorten one of your given names you list on item 1 of this form.

U.S. passports, either in book or card format, are only issued to U.S. citizens or non-citizen U.S. nationals. Each person must obtain his or her own U.S. passport book or U.S. passport card. The passport card is a U.S. passport issued in card format. Like the traditional U.S. passport book, it reflects the bearer's origin, identity, and nationality, and is subject to existing passport laws and regulations. Unlike the U.S. passport book, the U.S. passport card is valid only for entry at land border crossings and sea ports of entry when traveling from Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, and Bermuda. The U.S. passport card is not valid for international air travel.
ELECTRONIC PASSPORT STATEMENT

The U.S. Department of State now issues an "Electronic Passport" book, which contains an embedded electronic chip. The electronic passport book continues to be proof of the bearer's U.S. citizenship/nationality and identity, and looks and functions in the same way as a passport without a chip. The addition of an electronic chip in the back cover enables the passport book to carry a duplicate electronic copy of all information from the data page. The electronic passport book is usable at all ports-of-entry, including those that do not yet have electronic chip readers.

Use of the electronic format provides the traveler the additional security protections inherent in chip technology. Moreover, when used at ports-of-entry equipped with electronic chip readers, the electronic passport book provides for faster clearance through some of the port-of-entry processes.

The electronic passport book does not require special handling or treatment, but like previous versions should be protected from extreme heat, bending, and from immersion in water. The electronic chip must be read using specially formatted readers, which protects the data on the chip from unauthorized reading.

The cover of the electronic passport book is printed with a special symbol representing the embedded chip. The symbol will appear in port-of-entry areas where the electronic passport book can be read.

ACTS OR CONDITIONS

If any of the below-mentioned acts or conditions have been performed by or apply to the applicant, the portion which applies should be lined out, and a supplementary explanatory statement under oath (or affirmation) by the applicant should be attached and made a part of this application.

I have not, since acquiring United States citizenship/nationality, been naturalized as a citizen of a foreign state; taken an oath or made an affirmation or other formal declaration of allegiance to a foreign state; entered or served in the armed forces of a foreign state; accepted or performed the duties of any office, post, or employment under the government of a foreign state or political subdivision thereof; made a formal renunciation of nationality either in the United States, or before a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States in a foreign state; or been convicted by a court or court martial of competent jurisdiction of committing any act of treason against, or attempting by force to overthrow, or bearing arms against, the United States, or conspiring to overthrow, put down, or to destroy by force, the government of the United States.

Furthermore, I have not been convicted of a federal or state drug offense or convicted of a "sex tourism" crimes statute, and I am not the subject of an outstanding federal, state, or local warrant of arrest for a felony; a criminal court order forbidding my departure from the United States; a subpoena received from the United States in a matter involving federal prosecution for, or grand jury investigation of, a felony.

Notarized Statement of Consent for Special Circumstances

Usually both parents must go with a child in person to hand in a US passport application. If you cannot go in person, you must complete a form called DS-3053 Notarized Statement of Consent for Special Circumstances in addition to completing a passport application. This form explains why you cannot go in person.

You can find form DS-3053 at https://eforms.state.gov/Forms/ds3053.pdf.

Ask someone to help you fill it out.

[Note: This copy is not for official use]

Ask an ICE officer to assist you with getting the document notarized and explain that it is required in order for you to arrange for your child’s travel. If you are not satisfied with the response you get from them, or they are not providing you with the help you need, you may call the ICE Detention Reporting and Information Line at 888-351-4024 (DRIL hotline), or have a relative or friend contact either the ICE Field Office in the area where you are being detained, or ICE Headquarters.

Note: If you are going to apply for US passports for your children from your home country, do not follow the instructions on the application form. The process for submitting US passport applications overseas varies from country to country. Contact the US embassy or consulate where you are living and ask about the process for applying for a US passport.

Updated March 2019
STATEMENT OF CONSENT:
ISSUANCE OF A U.S. PASSPORT TO A MINOR UNDER AGE 16

USE OF THIS FORM

The information collected on this form is used in conjunction with the DS-11, "Application for a U.S. Passport." When a minor under the age of 16 applies for a passport and one of the minor's parents or legal guardians is unavailable at the time the passport is executed, a completed and notarized DS-3053 can be used as the statement of consent. If the required statement is not submitted, the minor may not be eligible to receive a U.S. passport. The required statement may be submitted in other formats provided they meet statutory and regulatory requirements.

FORM INSTRUCTIONS

1. Complete fields 1, 2, and 3. If field 3 is not completed, authorization will be valid for both products.
2. Complete field 4, Statement of Consent, only if you are a non-applying parent or guardian consenting to the issuance of a passport for your minor child. NOTE: Your signature must be witnessed and notarized in field 5.
3. The written consent from the non-applying parent that accompanies an application for a new U.S. passport must not be more than 90 days old. A clear photocopy of the front and back of the non-applying parent's government-issued photo identification presented to the notary is required with the written consent.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS FOR INSTITUTIONS/ENTITIES GRANTED GUARDIANSHIP

Below is a list of documents you must submit with your DS-3053:

1. A certified order of a court of competent jurisdiction granting guardianship to the institution/entity. (Photocopies are not acceptable.)
2. A signed statement from the institution/entity on letterhead authorizing a specific person to apply for a passport for the child on its behalf. The statement must include the minor's name and the name of the individual(s) authorized to apply for the passport.
3. A photocopy of employee identification documents proving the person applying for the minor's passport works at the institution/entity.

Adoption Reunion Registries

If your children have been adopted and you would like them to be able to find you later on, it is a good idea to register with an adoption registry. There are both national registries and state-run registries. Registering with both will increase the chances that your children will be able to find you if they choose to do so. If you decide to register with a state, be sure to use the registry in the state where the adoption occurred.

Do I Have the Right to a Lawyer in Family Court?

In most states, you may have the right to a court-appointed (free) lawyer at some stage in a child welfare proceeding. Not all states provide court-appointed lawyers at the beginning of a child welfare proceeding. Some states only provide a lawyer if your parental rights are about to be terminated. Other states only provide a lawyer if you cannot afford to hire one yourself. Always ask the judge to appoint you a lawyer, and if you do not get one, keep asking. Some states will only appoint a lawyer to help you if you ask.

For detailed information about the law in the state where your children live, see:
